NEW SUPERVISORS WENT INTO OFFICE AND BEGAN WORK

Sam Johnson and Other Republican Appointees Are Chosen Over Democratic Candidates.

There was a look of expectancy on the faces of the people who gathered around the McIntyre building for an hour before the installation of the new officers of the county yesterday. Even the band boys looked a bit anxious but not enough so to interfere with their playing the same old selections in the same old way. Both sides of Fort street were crowded by persons Kenloha nominated Mr. Hustace and Mr. Cox seconded. Mr. Harvey then moved that the nominations close. The retiring chairman called Mr. Hustace to the chair and congratulated him, after which he left the hall.

BOARD ORGANIZES.

Mr. Hustace then addressed the members saying that in all of his deliberations he would be just and fearless and he hoped he voiced the sentiment of the other members in that expression. He said further he hoped there would be no attempt to introduce politics into the body; that the duty of each member was to the public rather than to factions in any political party.

Clerk Kalaokalani then called the roll, all members answering to their names. Andrew Cox was then nominated for vice chairman by Mr. Archer. Mr. Fern nominated Mr. Harvey and when the vote was taken Cox was found to have four votes to Mr. Harvey's three. Cox was declared elected. Routine work followed the producing of certificates of election and the clerk then presented the oath of office of each. A motion was made to adopt the rules of procedure of the retiring board but Mr. Fern objected unless it was understood that they could be changed as wanted. The chair said the immediate adoption was for temporary use only. With this understanding Mr. Fern was willing and the adoption followed.

Bonds of the county officers were then presented for approval and the work was progressing favorably when Mr. Cox suggested that it would be well to refer to the county attorney but Archer said there is none in action, the newly elected having gone away.

with a desire to learn what changes would be made by the new supervisors, particularly in the matter of road supervision for this district. Mr. Johnson had canvassed the situation carefully and he had the strongest endorsement possible for the place but he was constantly warned by certain of his friends that one member or another of the board would vote against him and for that reason he has been on the anxious seat ever since election. It was rumored yesterday morning that the word had been passed that if he was appointed to the place Iaukea would discharge every old member of the police force. It was believed this report was started with the view to influencing Andrew Cox. But it failed.

The new assembly room is well adapted to the purpose to which it is put and arrangements for the comfort of the spectators yesterday were complete. The room is large, comfortable and well-ventilated. It filled up early with officials of the county, private citizens and a few job-chasers. Shortly after the noon hour Sheriff Iaukea and Chief Detective Taylor entered, followed by several of the supervisors, new and old, who remained during a part of the session interested spectators. When all of the new board had made their appearance the retiring chairman stepped to the desk and said he had received a very courteous invitation from the supervisors-elect to call the meeting to order. "The gentlemen would please take their seats." He then told them their first business would be the selection of a chairman to preside over their deliberations. Mr.

Some one announced that C. H. Olson had been appointed a deputy county attorney for a period of sixty days and he would pass upon the bonds. At this moment Sheriff Iaukea asked permission to withdraw as he wished to formally take charge of his department. This was granted and he left the room. The board then passed the bonds and referred them to Mr. Olson, who in turn reported them all correct. This action included the deputy sheriffs.

Chairman Hustace called for the adoption, permanently, of the old rules. Mr. Fern again objected until informed that the rules provided for change as desired by the board. Fern then withdrew his objections and the motion carried. The chair then announced the following committees:

Ways and Means—Frank K. Archer and J. J. Fern.
Public Expenditures—F. R. Harvey
Dwight and J. M. Kealoa.
Roads, Bridges and Parks—S. C. and J. M. Kealoa.
Police—Andrew Cox and F. R. Harvey.
Sanitation and Health—F. K. Archer

CURTIS P. IAUKEA.

C. P. IAUKEA TAKES HOLD

Given Charge of Police Affairs Yesterday at Noon.

With mutual expressions of goodwill and friendship, Sheriff Curtis P. Iaukea and ex-Sheriff Arthur M. Brown shook hands in the Sheriff's quarters at the police station yesterday, the former coming to take possession, the latter preparing to vacate in his favor. The meeting of the two was memorable. They had fought each other bitterly on the stump, at the ballot box and in the court, but the personal relations between them had remained friendly.

Arm-in-arm the two, the successful and the unsuccessful candidates, stood upon the steps of the station, Iaukea leading in the cheers for Brown, given with good will by the large crowd which had gathered to watch the operation of turning the police department over to new authorities. Before calling for the cheers, the Sheriff addressed the crowd shortly, thanking them for the honor they had done him in electing him as their Sheriff and promising them and the people of Honolulu that he would faithfully carry out the promises he had made during the campaign last November. For his predecessor, he said, he entertained only the kindest feelings.

Leis, which had been sent to the station for the incoming official, were shared between the two, Iaukea telling Brown to make himself at home around the station, Brown reciprocating by wishing his successor every success in his new duties and placing the benefit of his experience at the services of his successor at any time.

CROWD GATHERED EARLY.
The crowd around the station gathered early, many persons appearing before noon and remaining through a drizzling rain which commenced to fall before the Sheriff arrived. Within the station the retiring officers were busily packing up their private belongings and preparing inventories and accounts in readiness for the transfer.

At half past twelve the new police heads were seen approaching down Merchant street, the crowd surging over and leaving a lane to the station door, down which the Sheriff, the Deputy Sheriff, A. P. Taylor, the new detective chief, Judge Edings, and others passed, the crowd giving three cheers each for Iaukea and Jarrett. Once within, the formal transfer of authority was soon made, the accounts of the Sheriff's office being checked over, the inventory of the armory gone into and receipts given.

The following list was then posted, showing the names of those to be retained, temporarily at least, on the force:
First Watch—M. L. Needham, M. Nawa, J. Manase, C. Kakalia, George Walpa, T. Naki, Frank Kanase, J. Kaaua. Second Watch—A. Manuwai, K. Nohunohu, Jas. Kulike, John Thomas, N. Manumai, G. K. Hubbell, Alex. Bishaw, W. H. Keilua, F. Rodriguez, N. T. Neilsen, S. P. Walpa. Third Watch—Kewal George, John Wallace, W. B. Needham, E. W. Kawalea, Moses Wire, C. A. Bishaw, D. P. Kal-

REPUBLICANS IN DEBATE

Meet to Consider Party Policy in Approach- ing Legislature.

There was a meeting of the Territorial Central Committee called 7:30 last evening to which the Representatives and Senators-elect were invited. The call was in pursuance to a request of Representative Hughes that the members meet and decide upon certain measures to be presented at the coming session of the legislature. At the hour set for the meeting there were but three members of the committee present, each holding a proxy. Other committeemen dropped in in squads of one and two. And at eight o'clock there were present:

Representatives J. L. Pao, John Hughes, Jos. Kalana, S. P. Correa, A. D. Castro, E. W. Quinn, W. T. Rawlins, Ella Long and Senators Smith, Dowsett and Lane. Of the committee there were Chairman Ballentyne, Messrs. Robertson, chairman of the Territorial Central Committee; Secretary Savidge, F. W. Macfarlane, Geo. A. Davis, David Kanuha, N. Fernandez, E. J. Crawford and Frank Kruger. Chairman Ballentyne of the committee suggested an informal discussion. There being no objections to this, Chairman Robertson stated that the special matter for consideration was the drafts of sundry bills that had already been prepared. An informal report was presented last week but various obstacles had been confronted. The work of drafting bills was a difficult job, one that required careful consideration and careful work. The subcommittee reported that it was difficult to proceed without suggestion from the members elected as there might be different views on different subjects. He called upon the chairman of the committee, Mr. Ballentyne, to state the case.

Mr. Ballentyne stated that various views had been presented but the committee was unable to determine several important matters, one of which was the transfer of the water works to the county. The committee did not know what character of a bill would be acceptable. Whether the system would be transferred with or without consideration and until that was determined it was impossible to go ahead. The same applied to the school boards. And there are other matters including the plank referring to a primary election law. The committee would like to hear from the members of the legislature. The Anti-Saloon Leagues proposed liquor license law was read by Secretary Savidge. Chairman Robertson reading corresponding sections from the present law.

Mr. Dowsett asked if the bill had been drafted by the committee and was informed that the committee had not drafted any bill. He suggested, then, that the committee be empowered to engage such assistance as was deemed necessary and to meet the members of the legislature from time to time through the session. He wanted time to thresh out the bills.

The chairman said that one of the obstacles confronted by the committee was the ignorance of the members as to what bills they wished acted upon. Mr. Hughes made a motion that the committee retain the services of such attorneys as Messrs. Lewis, Davis and

SAN FRANCISCO, January 7.—Cold weather with snow prevails in Northern California. Mount Tamalpais and the Berkeley hills are snowclad for the first time since 1895.

WASHINGTON, January 6.—A protest has been received by the government from Roman Catholics against the United States interfering with the conditions of the Congo Free State.

One of the principal defenders of King Leopold in America is Cardinal Gibbons, who has declared that the agitation, begun some time ago by missionaries of the Methodist church in Great Britain, is due to "religious prejudice" and a desire to grab the Congo. As for the reports of cruelties there he is quoted as saying:

"I do not deny that there have been cases of misjudgment on the part of Congo officials. Most likely cruelties, even crimes, have been committed. There have been a number of convictions before Congo tribunals for these offenses. I do deny that every effort, as far as possible, has not been made to stop the ill-treatment of natives, not only by white people, but by natives themselves.

"No government in the world has remedied all the grievances within its own jurisdiction. It is a curious fact that when one country seeks to produce a local millennium it always seizes on territory belonging to some one else for the experiment. The Scripture parable about the beam and the mote is of as much significance today as nineteen centuries ago. It would be more philanthropic to strengthen our hands, more for the benefit of civilization, for all white persons to stand united than for some to abuse us, which certainly does not augment the respect it is good for the African natives to have for the white race. It would be of more interest to civilization to show the natives that Christians have good feelings for their neighbors.

"Our God says we must all have Christian fellowship one for another. Certainly this example is not being shown the blacks by those white men who attack the Congo so maliciously."

PARIS, January 6.—The Roman Catholics of France are rejecting everything offered them by the government. It is believed that an order will be issued to the clergy to withdraw from their churches, in the hope that this drastic action will force the Roman Catholic voters to demand redress from the government at the ballot box.

PARIS, January 6.—Count Tolstoi has made a prediction that the Christian countries will ultimately be reduced to a state of vassalage to the Orientals.

NEW YORK, January 6.—A bomb was dropped from an elevated train into the street yesterday, three persons being injured in the resulting explosion. The perpetrator of the bomb-throwing is a member of the Italian Mafia Society.
